Second Round Men's Club Championships

Windy conditions again hampered the field during the second round of the Club Championships with only Lalbert Golf Club member, Doug Meehan (6) breaking 80, recording a terrific score of four over par 75.

While round one Championship leader Chris Waterson (8) struggled with a ten over par 81, his lead increased to six strokes as second placed Phil Lloyd and third placed Simon Kelly had poor rounds. Last year's runner-up Gary Thorne (6) is now in second place on 166 with Phil Lloyd and Terry Turvey (11) equal third on 168. Defending Champion Don Ross (9) is well back, ten strokes behind the leader.

As in the first round, Waterson again struggled on the fourth hole, with a triple bogey after driving the ball out of bounds, but immediately rebounded with a birdie on the par 3 fifth hole. However, the defining moment of his round came at the long par 5 sixth hole where after taking a penalty for driving the ball into the dam, chipped in for a par.

In B Grade, Paul Goodson (15) has taken a three-stroke lead over Scott Harry (12), with Goodson recording 83 to Harry's 86. Graham Wyte (14) remains third with 175 after a round of 87. Goodson leads with a total of 170.

Geoff Williams (18) is still well clear in C Grade, after recording 89 for a total of 179. Second place belongs to Lindsay Hogg (23) on 185 after a round of 88, while Casey Gillen (21) and Kevin Sambrook (21) share equal billing in third place with 192.

The winner of the Men's competition was Lindsay Hogg (23) with net 65 while Michelle Dillon (11) has won the Ladies event two weeks in a row with net 71.
